Spring Sales.

All who want to insure good sales of personal property, should ADVERTISE them in the STAR AND SENTINEL, besides getting attractive hand bills. Our large circulation carries weekly to two thousand homes the knowledge of what you have to sell and when you intend to sell; and this is the best way to secure a large attendance and competitive bidding. Tell the people all about your sale, its date and all you will offer. Let everybody in the country know it. Let them hear about it once a week, for one two or three weeks. How can you do this? Well if you want it known that your daughter is married or your son has broken his leg how do you proceed to inform everybody? You put it in the STAR AND SENTINEL. Well, then, if you want an army of good bidders at your sale first put your invitation in this paper.

All sales ADVERTISED in the STAR AND SENTINEL, got a "local notice free of charge, as follows:

Dr. Gotwald's Bequest.

We clip the following paragraph from a Kansas City paper: Rev. George D. Gotwald, the late pastor of the Memorial Lutheran church, had a large fortune, but just how large cannot be ascertained until his will shall be probated, which will be as soon as Mrs. Gotwald returns from Ohio. It is well known by his friends, however, that $24,000 will go to endow a chair at Midland College, Atchison, Kan., and the rest will go to his wife. The bequest to the College is in the form of two life insurance policies for that amount. Midland College was one of Mr. Gotwald's pet ideas, and he did more probably to found that institution than any one else. During the past year he secured over $100,000 in legacies for Midland College. In addition to all this he was educating a young man there, paying all his expenses, and Mrs. Gotwald, whose fortune, independent of her husband's, is also large, will continue this work of educating the young man.

A Decision on the Constables Question.

Judge Furst, of Huntingdon, has instructed Prothonotary Brewster to publish that all constables who were elected last spring serve for one year only, and those elected next month will serve for three years, under the act of 14th of February, 1889. This is the act which has been the subject of so much controversy of late among the lawyers of the State. Judge Furst holds extra-judicially that the words "Third Tuesday of February, next" mean next February or February, 1890. Or, in other words, rules that the adjective "next" qualifies February and not "Third Tuesday."

Judge McClean holds, we believe, just the reverse. To be safe it would be better probably to elect constables with the rest of the ticket.

WANTED.—A clerk for confectioner—lady preferred. Call on J. M. MINNICH. 1t

Dr. E. E. Higbee Memorial Fund.

A number of Normal school principals and city, county and borough superintendents propose to have erected a suitable monument to the memory and services of the late Dr. Higbee, and let the children of the schools of the State aid in so doing. A circular has been issued to every school in the State requesting that Friday, January 31st, be observed as "Higbee Memorial Day" for the purpose of holding exercises appropriate to Dr. Higbee's character and receiving contributions to a fund for a monument.

Y. M. C. A. LECTURE!—John R. Clarke, subject: "To and Fro in London." The lecture will be given in the Opera House, Thursday evening Jan. 3d. Admission 35 and 50cts. Single and course tickets can be had at Buehler's Drug store. Doors open at 7 o'clock p. m. Lecture begins at 8 o'clock. Mr. Clarke is one of the most entertaining speakers in the lecture field. Wherever he goes he gives universal satisfaction. He is more nearly like Gough than any other lecturer on the American platform.

Local Miscellany.

Senator Quay has introduced a bill in the Senate providing that the Gettysburg Memorial Association shall be furnished with specimens of arms and accoutrements used by the armies in the battle of Gettysburg, for exhibition and preservation at the Gettysburg Museum. The full text of the bill is as follows: Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the Secretary of War is hereby authorized and directed to deliver to the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association, at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, specimens of the arms, equipments, projectiles, uniforms, and other material of war used by the armies in that battle (so far as may be practicable), for the purpose of exhibiting and preserving them for historical purposes in the museum at the house used by Major-General Meade for headquarters, now owned by the said association, or at such other place at Gettysburg as the association may deem proper. And that the transportation to Gettysburg be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department of the United States from the appropriation for the transportation of Army supplies.

The President has appointed G. H. Alter, of Mifflintown, Juniata county supervisor of the census for this, the seventh district of Pennsylvania. All appointments of enumerators for the townships and boroughs within the district will be made by him

A special meeting of the Odd Fellows will be held this evening. A full attendance is desired

During the last week David Kitzmiller was appointed Post-master and Hart Gilbert Deputy collector of Internal Revenue. They will take charge of their offices early next month.

Prof. C. F. Diehl, of Martinez, Cal., in renewing his subscription to THE STAR AND SENTINEL, writes:

"Although it takes just a week for your paper to reach me, I will have to renew my subscription if I want to get the local news of my old home. It is now forty years since I left your county—still, by reading your weekly paper, names and places of my boyhood days remain familiar to me. I have now spent fifteen months in this land that boasts of its fruit and climate. Last winter I neither saw ice, snow or frost, and up to Jan. 6th this winter the thermometer did not get down to the freezing point, and then only frost three mornings, with the thermometer 30° early in the morning."

The correspondent who has filled several of our columns with views touching the W. C. T. U. desires further space for elucidating them. But as the discussion already has put our readers in possession of all the facts, there appears to be no sufficient reason for prolonging it. Our space is too valuable to be wasted in iteration of assertion or re-iteration of opinion on points which have been fully heard.

A number of members, and others from the vicinity of Upper Bermudian Lutheran Church, paid a pleasant surprise visit at the parsonage, Jan. 21st. After a bounteous dinner, and social greetings, the parties retired leaving quantities of grain, groceries, provisions and other articles in possession of the pastor. Not only have we enjoyed similar visits in the past, but not a single month, in the past six years, has gone by that we were not remembered in a temporal way by some kind parishioners. For all this we return thanks, and will not forget, while it is our privilege to minister in spiritual things, those who minister so well to us in temporal things. As another evidence of esteem for the pastor, and of prosperity in the church, he has been successful in organizing a "Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor" with 203 active and associate members. U. A. HANKEY.

Friday and Saturday evenings, the twenty-first and twenty-second of March have been chosen for the Junior exhibition. The exercises will be held in the chapel if it is finished, otherwise in the Christ church.

Personal Mention.

We are glad to hear that our former young townsman James S. Croll has succeeded in winning a prize of fifty dollars offered, for 1889, by the firm of J. Hay & Sons, of Easton, to any salesmon in their employ who made the greatest gain in amount of goods sold over the previous year. Mr. Croll had a hard route and worked under difficulties from the start. It was his first year on the road and we congratulate him on his success. The firm expressed their appreciation of his services in a complimentary letter.

In noticing Professor Hart Gilbert's resignation of his position in the Cumberland Valley State Normal school, the Shippensburg Chronicle says: Prof. Gilbert has been a popular and successful instructor at the Normal and his departure will be regretted by faculty and students.

Mr. Morris Croll is at home, having resigned his position as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Titusville.

The Misses Krise are visiting in Baltimore.

At the last meeting of the directors Hon. David Wills was elected President of the Gettysburg National bank in place of Hon. John A. Swope, resigned. C. M. McCurdy was elected assistant cashier of the same institution. A few weeks ago he resigned as teller to accept a position in a Washington bank. His many friends will be glad to know that his services were highly regarded and that he will again reside in Gettysburg.

Miss Gertie Meals is visiting relatives in Washington, D. C.

H. J Stahle was in Harrisburg last week attending a meeting of the State Editorial Association.

Mr. Wm. M Dannie of Eureka Springs Arkansas, was home for a few days. He returned to-day.

Rev. J. Brubaker, of Gettysburg, Pa., preached for the Lutheran congregation last Sabbath a week with great acceptance. The congregation has since agreed to call Mr. Brubaker to be their pastor, and the Council of the church, will in accordance with the wish of the congregation prepare a call and forward the same to him.—Wrightsville Star.

Col. Frank J. Magee, of Wrightsville, Past Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania G. A. R. was given a complimentary dinner in Philadelphia on last Friday night He was presented with a gold watch and chain with an enameled monogram charm of the Tenth Corps, in which he served. Col. Magee is a regular attendant at the summer encampments and is well known here.

Miss Elizabeth Buehler is in town for a short visit, but will return to Hagerstown in a few days to remain until spring.

Mrs. J. W. Kendlehart left to-day on a visit to Chambersburg.

The statement that Dr. J. Wolf, of the Theological Seminary would accept a call to Pittsburg is a mistake, Dr. Wolf will remain in his present position.

The Business Men's Jubilee.

The ladies of Christ Lutheran Church, assisted by ladies from other churches of the town, gave a novel entertainment in the Opera House on Friday evening. The proceeds are to be used in furnishing a room in the Seminary. This style of entertainment has been popular in the West and was given here for the first time Each young lady dressed to advertise the house she represented and in well-turned rhymes extolled the wares offered there and urged the audience to buy at that place. The ladies came on in three divisions, and before leaving each gave a well-executed march. The grand finale was a particularly pleasing and difficult figure. The proceeds amounted to more than ninety dollars. The following took part in the entertainment:

Death of John S. Duncan.

This community was startled last Tuesday afternoon by a telegram from Baltimore, announcing that Mr. John S. Duncan, third son of the late Hon. Wm. A. Duncan, had been found in his room at his boarding house, 718 North Howard street, unconscious from asphyxiation. He never rallied and as a result but little can be definitely known of the causes of his death. However, it is known that he went home late on Monday night, undressed and went to bed. His overcoat was neatly folded and with his clothes, placed on a chair in perfect order for use the next day. He had been suffering from the grip and it is supposed that early in the morning before daybreak he became ill and was obliged to get up. He found his way to the gas jet, turned on the gas before striking the match, as was his custom and reached for a match, but only to find the safe empty. Before retiring to bed he put out, as he thought, the gas; but instead he turned the stop of the wrong jet, for both were on full when he was found. There were two jets in his room, with the stop cocks very close together, the one was used for illuminating purposes and the other for heating the room by means of a gas stove. The mistake was easy to make. The smell of escaping gas would not have alarmed him, for he had the one jet open for some few minutes at least; nor would it have attracted the attention of the boarders for plumbers had been at work in the house and it would have been attributed to their work. Unfortunately the window and transom were both closed, so that there was no ventilation.

Mr. Duncan had been accustomed to sleep late in the mornings and had told the land-lady not to disturb him in case he was not down in time for breakfast. His orders were strictly obeyed. At twelve o'clock a servant went to his room and thought she heard heavy breathing, and again at one o'clock with the same result. It was not until after two that a lodger, having a room next to Mr. Duncan, reported that he smelled gas very strongly in the hallway. The door was broken in and Mr. Duncan was found on the floor near the bed, which was very narrow, where he had fallen in the struggle—which probably occurred before the gas overcame him.

The well known physicians, Drs. Richard Thomas and James Cary Thomas were with him five minutes after he was discovered and every remedy known for asphyxiation was tried but proved unavailing. He was first rubbed and hot bottles applied to his body; next electricity was tried; then subcutaneous injection of ether were given; a vein in the wrist was opened and it was attempted to intuse new blood, but his blood would not flow; tracheotomy was performed and artificial respiration by the injections of oxygen into the lungs was attempted, but it brought only a slight tinge of color to his cheek, which is not necessarily a sign of returning consciousness. All proved futile and the attempt was given up only after every effort had been made. Chas. A. Duncan, Esq., went to Baltimore that evening and brought the body home the next day.

Mr. Duncan had been in Baltimore only since Christmas and was taking a course in Bryant & Stratton's Business College, expecting to go west in the spring. He had been at home spending Sunday and returned to the city on Monday morning. He was about 22 years old, bright, affable and popular, and his death will be regretted by many friends. The funeral took place on Saturday morning and was largely attended.

Death's Doings.

W. N. Miller, the well-known marble cutter, died Sunday morning. He had had an attack of the grippe and two weeks ago yesterday went to work on the College building. That evening he was seized with a severe chill and pneumonia developed, Mr. Miller lived in Gettysburg about twenty years and was highly respected. He leaves a widow and five children. He had his life insured for $2000. Mr. Miller was a prominent Odd Fellow, being District Deputy Grand Master at the time of his death, Financial Secretary of the Red Men, and President of the Fire Company. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

At a special meeting of the Fire Co. last evening it was resolved to attend the funeral in a body; and that the room be draped for 30 days.

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Plank, wife of Emanuel Plank, of Highland township, was very sudden. She had been suffering from the grippe, but had recovered sufficiently to go about her duties. On Saturday morning at two o'clock severe pains attacked her and she died one hour later from neuralgia of the heart. Mrs. Plank was a daughter of the late John Socks.

Mrs. Rebecca Culp, widow of the late Jeremiah Culp, died on Saturday from pneumonia. She was a prominent Lutheran and active in all church work.

Wm. H. Jackson, colored, died on Saturday. He was well-known throughout the county and highly respected.

Court Proceedings.

January 22nd, was the day appointed for the hearing of the liquor licenses and current business. Judge McClean and the associates John L. Jenkins and David G. Donohue presiding. The commissions of the associates were read by the Clerk. The appointment of John Culp as messenger and F. M. Timmins as constable were confirmed. The following business was transacted:

There were twenty-seven applications for license, twenty-five of which were granted. Remonstrances against the applications for Bendersville, New Oxford and Franklin township were filed, but the latter only prevailed against. The application of Reuben Altland, for Abbottstown, was refused because last November when the constable returned him as drunk and unfit to keep a public house, he promised the Court in writing not to be an applicant this year, if his license would not be revoked. Bendersville was granted, after being without a licensed house for several years. The Court ruled that as Bendersville was a municipality or borough, the majority of the voters would have to decide the question. In consequence little weight was attached to the remonstrance signed by citizens living in the township, Augustus Lerew was the lucky man. New Oxford which has been "dry" for two years, succeeds this year. The Court remarked that the town needed a public house and the license would have been granted last year if the applicant had come properly qualified. George Sunday was the applicant.
