j26 2t COMMITTEE

A LADY living in the suburbs of town saw what she supposed was a big blackensake on the floor of her bedroom, the other evening She ran down stairs and informed her husband, who went upstairs with a friend, each armed with a club, and there was the snake. "Hit it hard!" said one, and down came the club on—a piece of black ribbon lying on the floor —Hanover Herald

If you want to raise a big crop of grain and grass, use the Gold Dust Phosphate. 6t

CARP—Mr Jacob Klepper, of Latimore township, caught recently a carp measuring 15 inches around and weighing 8 pounds.

Andrew Wolf, of New Chester, lately killed a carp with a club, which is reported to weigh 14 pounds and measure over 3 feet in length

THE P O S of A pic-nic at Silver Oak Park on Thursday was a marked success. Gettysburg, Littlestown, Kingsdale, New Oxford, East Berlin and Hanover were well represented

Ballot Reform.

The new law which will govern elections in this Commonwealth is a matter of general interest, and for the information of our readers we publish it in full, the first part appearing on our first page to-day, to be followed by the rest next week It should be carefully read and the papers kept for future reference.

Presents to the College.

Mr. John Wiseman, of Philadelphia, has presented Pennsylvania College with a large clock of the E Howard Company make, and Mr W L Glatfelter, of Spring Grove, has added a 2 000 pound bell on which the hours will be struck Both will be mounted in the tower of Recitation Hall and used to indicate recitation hours.

Improvements.

On East Middle street, Mrs Spangler has erected a two-story frame residence on the corner of Stratton street, Mrs E J Miller, nearly opposite, has put up a back building and improved the front of her residence, and Mr Jacob Rummel is completing an addition to his residence

We understand East Middle street will be continued through the Culp farm one square to intersect East street, to accommodate the demand for building lots in that section of the town, which is building up rapidly

Mr David Klingel's new residence, near the College, is approaching completion Two of Mr Martin Winter's new houses, on Lincoln street, are under roof and the other two are going up rapidly Mr Alex Spangler's new residence, Carlisle street, is receiving the roof

Mr Uriah Wagner, in New Oxford has erected a complete and handsome summer house on his property in that place

NEW POSTAL ROUTE —The railroad postal service from Baltimore to this place has been extended to Highfield, where the Western Extension joins the main line of the Western Maryland Railroad For some time the postal clerks have stopped here and separate pouches from here made for each office on the line, necessitating delay in the transmission of mail between points on the line The new arrangement, which goes into effect on August 1st, to be known as the Baltimore and Highfield R P O, will give greatly increased facilities to offices on the Western Extension Three route agents will be required, Mr Hughes, of Maryland, being the third man Each will run two weeks and then have a week off

GRANITE —Large amounts of granite are being shipped from the quarries of the Gettysburg Granite Company, on Mr S M Bushman's farm, for bridge and culvert work on the new railroad from Porter's siding to York They have erected a derrick near the W M freight station for loading the stone on cars

In the construction of the piers for the new Baltimore and Ohio bridge at Harper's Ferry granite will be furnished by Messrs Jones & Thorne, who own the quarries at Granite Hill As immense quantities will be needed, this contract will revive the work at their quarries and likely give employment to a large force The contemplated improvement at Harper's Ferry will make material changes in the general appearance of the old historic place

That the vast quantity of this valuable building material, abounding in this section, is being appreciated, seems apparent from the above, and its use may become more general

We understand Mr Jacob Witmore, of Straban township was considerably hurt by the upsetting of a load of hay last week

Mr. S V Busbman, of Round-Top, last week, had his right hand badly cut while threshing

MASONIC —Mr Ed J Heart, Past Master of George Washington Lodge of Chambersburg, has received the appointment of District Deputy Grand Master of the 3d district of Pennsylvania, composed of the counties of Franklin, Cumberland and Adams, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Deputy Grand Master H D Scott, of this place

THE July number of the Green Bag, a legal magazine published in Boston, contains the third of a series of articles by Wm Arch McClean, Esq, of this place, on the "Law of the Land," the article in question being under the title "Something About the Making of Wills" They are written in a popular vein and we hear them complimented by the legal fraternity

THE work of erecting the New York Monument in the National Cemetery goes on as rapidly as its heavy character permits Steam power is used in handling the stones

LARGE amounts of fill at from the farm of Mr Uriah Gardner, at Gardner's station, on the P. H. & P railroad, are being shipped to East Liverpool, Ohio. The quality is said to be very fine

Tour of Inspection.

Cadwalader Biddle, Esq, of Philadelphia, and Dr J W C O'Neal, of this place, of the Pa State Board of Public Charities, between the 9th and 21st, visited and inspected the alms-houses, jails, hospitals and other institutions of charity in the following localities Williamsport, Lycoming county, Lock Haven, Clinton co, Brookville, Jefferson co, Adrian, near Punxsutawney, Ridgway, Elk co, Warren and Youngsville, Warren co, Meadville, Crawford co, Franklin, Oil City and Titusville, Venango co, Tionesta, Forest co, Clarion, Clarion co Pittsburg, Allegheny co, Beaver, Beaver co, New Castle, Lawrence co, Mercer, Mercer co, Butler, Butler co

The township poor-houses at Brady's Bend, Washington township and Franklin, in Armstrong county, were also visited These township institutions are objectionably expensive and not up to the times in improvement Each poor house must have a management and a locality, and a division of taxes makes it expensive to relieve the necessities of the poor

Fires From Electricity.

On Friday night after the severe thunder storm which passed over this section a number of fires were seen from here The nearest one was that of Mr Peter Kready's stable, at Ortanna, an account of which is given in our Cashtown letter Another was that of Mr Joseph Galloway, two mile east of Idaville where a small barn with ninety bushels of wheat and several tons of hay were destroyed There was $450 insurance on the barn and $75 on the contents Dr Fulks barn, near New Kingston, and Mr Aaron Hoke's barn near Newville, were among the other buildings destroyed

The light seen to the south was occasioned by the burning of the Walden stables, near Middleburg, Carroll county, Md The handsome establishment, one of the finest in the state, was entirely consumed, along with twelve valuable yearling colts and three two-year-old thoroughbreds of high pedigree The loss is estimated at $100 000 The stables contained a number of valuable horses all of which were saved

—The barn of Jos Galloway was insured in the Dwelling House Company, through Martin Winter's agency

CORNER STONE LAID —On Sunday at in Wenksville, the corner stone of the new Lutheran Church was laid by the pastor, Rev J M Rice, in accordance with the appropriate service of that church In a grove near by appropriate religious services were held An earnest and forcible sermon was preached on the occasion by Rev D T Koser, of Arendtsville The subscription taken amounted to $734 00 The day was sentinal, the attendance large and the interest marked

Charged With Murder

On Monday afternoon Secretary F T F Lovejoy of the Carnegie Steel Company, made info mation against seven of the Homestead strikers The first on the list of alleged culprits is the popular and handsome leader, Hugh O Donnell, who so mysteriously disappeared Monday night Burgess McCluckie, was arrested

They are collectively charged with the murder of T J Connors and Sylas Wayne, on the morning of July 6th, during the riot

Conners was a Pinkerton man, 30 years of age, and lived at 2 Bell street, New York He was struck on the back of the head with a dynamite bomb, and had his right arm crushed Wayne was a young, single workman, who lived with his parents in Homestead He had his head shot off with a cannon ball fired from the opposite side of the river, while standing with his brother in the steel yard. There are two separate informations against the defendants, and only vary in the names of the victims The Carnegie officials state that other strikers will be prosecuted from day to day until all who have been prominent in the trouble at Homestead have been punished

Burgess McCluckie was released on Wednesday morning on $10 000 bail The application for release was heard by Judge Magee Before granting bail, the Judge said the law makes every man who stands idly by without any effort to suppress the riot, guilty of riot, and added "This may be murder in the first or second degree I feel that in the case of Mr McCluckie his crime, if any, does not reach that of murder in the first degree.

PRICES OF HOGS RISE —Prices of hogs are now higher than they have been for four years The market is very strong, and prices are steadily advancing The best Chicago hogs the beginning of last week brought 8¼ cents per pound In the summer of 1888 prices reached 9½ cents for the best Chicago hogs, and one year ago they reached 8 cents, but since the summer of 1889 prices have not reached 8¼, the point at which they stand at present

The prospects are for still higher prices, and they will probably not reach the extreme figures of four years ago

The cause of this steady advance is not found in any scarcity of hogs The immense corn crop of last year has caused hogs to be plentiful

THE IDAHO STRIKERS —The Idaho strikers have continued as sullen as from the beginning, but are in a measure, submitting to the U S Troops The strikers blew up several railroad bridges near Mullan, and cut down a number of telegraph polls Several reports of massacre are afloat One reporter says he saw two men badly hacked about the bodies hanging to a tree near Old Mission The U S troops began arresting the striking miners in Burk on Monday At this turn many of them took to the mountains The U S troops, with the State militia, in the striker's station, number 1 000 The trouble originated from a demand for increase in wages and the revolt of the men against a hospital tax of $1 per month, levied by the company
