Out Of The Past From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO Borough Election: The following is the return of the Charter Election held in this borough on Tuesday, May 4:—

Just Folks By EDGAR A. GUEST EDGAR A. GUEST SHOCK IN A DINING CAR I met him in a dining car. Where side by side we sat. As frequently some travelers are He seemed inclined to chat. Naming the city I love best. Because it's home to me. And where I have my mail addressed. "The town is dead!" said he.

P. J. Buntag (Continued from Page 1) arrangement. Cochran told the court Weisman and Buntag appeared at his home to outline a plan to place aluminum siding on his home. He said they told him their company planned to establish an office in Gettysburg and a warehouse in York; that it had considered all types of advertising and believed the best advertising would be to put the siding on a home that needed repairs, and then have their salesmen take prospects to the home to show them the results.

Did Not Take Pictures Cochran said the men asked him to sign a form which they said was a direction to the workmen. After he had signed it, he said, they indicated the figure "$3,500." When he inquired about that, Cochran said, the salesmen said that was a figure to show what the actual estimated cost of the work was. He added that Buntag and Weisman asked him to sign a bond that he would not sell the home for two years and would permit its use as a demonstration home.
