And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.
(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.
And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)
To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.
And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.
And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.—Luke 2:1-7.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams—ALOOFNESS OF SPIRIT

IT IS the way we feel inside that really regulates our progress in life. People around us may try to discourage us. They may sneer, or laugh at our feeble attempts toward doing something that we feel quite worth while. Yet, if we own a certain aloofness of spirit, nothing can challenge us.
With such a spirit we will face things as they come. We will dare to do, and say: This thing I do! And we will nourish bravery within our heart, and our mind will be stimulated to think courageous thoughts. And we will have a calm manner—and our body will respond with health.
Every experience in life may have spiritual nourishment to it. Each task, performed in our best manner and understanding, accumulates faith and enterprise for us, and clears our vision ahead.
Feeble first attempts often reveal very great possibilities far ahead—and it is to them that we tie a star and prod far out in front—often across virgin mental soil, and through thickets of darkness.
In traveling by foot through a strange country, I have always been cheered by the cleared spaces encountered. They always make me feel as though I would not become lost—that others had been there before.
The cleared spaces in our lives gives us so much courage to go on—to attempt further discovery and pioneering. Brave experiences should spot our lives, make us less timid, and richer in faith.
There is a grand dignity to a person with an aloof standard of action. But this aloofness of spirit must not be confused with any manufactured manner of snobbery or falseness of pride. Its very possession is the highest evidence of unselfish desire.

Cream butter and sugar. Add rest of ingredients, mixing well. Pour into 2 loaf pans lined with waxed papers and bake 2 hours in moderately slow oven.

Mince pie tarts make very acceptable gifts for the busy housewife or woman who is employed outside the home.
A basket of assorted jellies, jams and pickles makes a good gift for the neighbor or very busy housewife.

Just Folks

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS
I like mistletoe and holly,
Ribbons red and candles gay.
I like all the bits of folly
That are linked to Christmas Day.
I may be a quaint old fellow,
But when Christmas morning comes
On the sideboard I want wassail
And a plate of sugar plums.

I like snow-flecked carol singers
In a group about the door;
Little pies and lady fingers
In a large and generous store.
I like cookies sugar-coated
Made in curious forms and shapes.
I like fruit in jelly floated
And a hanging sprig of grapes.

From the cellar to the table
I would have the snail climb,
And a bear's head on the table
I should like at Christmas time,
There's no custom I'd be spurning
Could I only have my wish.
I would set plum pudding burning
Like a bonfire on the dish.

I like home to be the center
Of the countless Christmas joys.
I like greeting all who enter
Once again as girls and boys.
Oh, no custom would be missing
Could I only have my way.
For in feasting and in kissing
I would spend the Christmas Day.

Calling The Roll In Lindbergh Case

JUMP FROM CAR
Hagerstown—Berry Miller, 200 block South Potomac street, escaped serious injury or death by jumping when his automobile was struck by a draft of cars of the Pennsylvania railroad at the West Franklin street crossing Thursday night about seven o'clock. His automobile was crushed.

FREDERICK COUNTY
350 ATTEND MEETING OF FARM BUREAU
Frederick—Between 300 and 350 persons attended the annual meeting of the Frederick county farm bureau Thursday morning in the state armory annex, followed by a luncheon in the parish hall of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church. The morning was devoted entirely to business, including the presentation and passage of many reports and the election of delegates and alternates to the annual meeting of the state farm bureau in January.

STEAL ENTIRE FURNITURE SUIT
Carlisle—A new type of burglar, who must use a truck to haul his loot, is now bothering Cumberland county police.
Police have received a report of the theft of an entire suite of living room furniture, stolen from a hunting cabin near Sterrett's Gap some time this week. The theft was discovered and reported by Bruce Kelley, of Carlisle, a member of the hunting club who visited the lodge on Tuesday.

FRANKLIN COUNTY
SCARLET FEVER CASES DECREASE
Chambersburg—The number of cases of scarlet fever in Chambersburg decreased to sixteen Thursday as the quarantines were lifted from five homes by Health Officer Frank J. Croft. A further decrease is expected before Christmas, due to the expiration of other quarantines.

WASHINGTON COUNTY
HEAVY DAMAGE IN HANCOCK BLAZE
Hancock—Fanned by strong winds of near gale proportions, fire early Thursday morning destroyed the hardware store of Harry Exline, the plant of the Hancock News, damaged nearby buildings and for a time threatened the business district of Hancock.
Damage was estimated at $75,000

RAILROAD IS TAKEN BY U. S.

Uncle Sam Enters Carrier Business for First Time Since World War.

Denver, Dec. 22 (AP).—Uncle Sam became a railroader Friday night for the first time since the world war, assuming nominal control of the Denver and Salt Lake (Moffat) railroad in the Rockies with the intention of operating it until the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad pays $10,763,150 borrowed from the Reconstruction finance corporation.

Wilson McCarthy, of Oakland, California, former Salt Lake city district judge, was elected president of the road, succeeding William E. Freeman.

McCarthy told the Associated Press this move "does not mean that the federal government is going into the railroad business."

To Protect Security
"The RFC merely is moving into the picture in order to protect its security in loans made to the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad," said McCarthy, a former director of the RFC.

Merely Making Loan
"The RFC is not taking over the Denver and Salt Lake railway, but is making a loan to the Denver and Salt Lake Western road a subsidy of the Denver and Rio Grande Western, to enable the latter road to complete payment for the purchase

McCarthy's declaration was concurred in by J. S. Pyatt, president of the Rio Grande. In Houston, Texas, Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the RFC, said the corporation merely is requiring that the independence of the Moffat line be preserved until the Rio Grande "is in a position to complete its plans for ultimate ownership of the Moffat."

"To insure this independence, the RFC suggested the selection of Judge Wilson McCarthy as chief executive officer of the road," Jones stated.
