An Evening Thought

Since Time is not a person we can overtake when he is gone, let us labor him with mirth and cheerfulness of heart while he is passing.—Goethe.

Out of the Past

Happenings of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times 'the files' reveal.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

DEATH PENALTY: 'Tis strange that mortals will not heed. The motor laws which govern speed. The violation code outlines. A punishment of fees and fines; But motorists who laws defy May also be condemned to die.

A farmer, leaving his abode, Swung recklessly into the road. He failed to stop! All unconcerned Across the highway main he turned; Looked neither to the left nor right, And died for just that oversight!

And when they saw him afar off, even before they came near unto them, they compassed against him to slay him.

And they said one to another, Behold, this dreamer cometh. Come now therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him into some pit, and we will say, Some evil spirit hath deceived him; and we shall see what will become of his dream.

And Jacob heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him.

And Jacob said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness; and lay no hand upon him; that he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again.

26 1/2 inches in circumference and weighed 5 lbs.

Whilst upon the subject of Mammoth articles, we would inform our country friends, that it would be worth while to call, when they come to town, to see a very fine Hog. In the pen of Col. Clarkson of this borough.

Today's Talk

By George Mathew Adams

USEFULNESS AS FAR as I am able to observe, nothing that is useful is thrown away. We keep useful things around us.

I know men who couldn't be kicked out of a job. I do not mean that a man cannot lose a job. Men of ability and worth often lose their jobs. But they would still create jobs somehow because their attitude of mind and their usefulness would not allow themselves to remain idle.

Usefulness is a world commodity. The demand is far in excess of the supply at all times. We serve ourselves first of all. This is something many forget. A man serving himself simply must serve others. The outlet becomes the job at hand.

Usefulness cannot be measured in terms of money alone. It must be measured in terms of service so rendered that it gives permanence of worth to character and to the work of life itself.

All achievement must have the element of co-operation to it. The mere shoveler of dirt gets nowhere beyond his day's pay—but if that dirt contributes to a highway, then that workman becomes a unit in a completed affair. He becomes, in addition, a roadbuilder! And what a useful thing a road is!

One of the most important tasks of life is to learn to be useful—in anything. It doesn't matter along what line. There are lines enough—and they keep growing.

The man who is generally let out from a job is the one who fails to be longer useful. There are more things to be done in this world than there are people to do them. The despair of the business man is: Who can do this job better than it has ever been done before? The salesman wanted, for instance, is the one who can prove his usefulness to himself, his firm, and to the one whom he contacts.

If a man is useful he is already a man with capital invested and drawing dividends. And the more useful he becomes the more secure he makes himself and society at large.

The useful man doesn't worry. The one who worries is the man who is without him!

A "Forty-Six?" Dignify Charm The Slenderizing Marian Martin Way

PATTERN 9645 Sooner or later every matron recognizes the one way to enhance her natural charm is by wearing a frock that puts her at ease, and flatters her into looking her best self.

If you wear forty-odd, you'll find a simplicity of line in pattern 9645 which is particularly slenderizing. There's a wonderfully smooth and slender shoulder-line to exclaim over—a patterning of diagonal seams to detract from a too-round silhouette—and a slimline skirt which does flatter things to large hips.

Choose a flat crepe or soft synthetic for semi-dress occasions—satin with dull lustre for a dressy version, and you're ready for any surprise invitation. Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9645 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34 and 40. Size 38 requires 3 3/4 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Send today for our Pattern Book for Fall and Winter! See how easily and thrifty you can make attractive clothes for yourself and family, and what lovely yet simple gifts you can make for Christmas. Learn how you can choose and wear your clothes for greater charm!

Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Bullets Are Battered by Dickinson Team 32 to 12

Unable to solve a triple-wing back offensive which carried with it a large assortment of trick passes and laterals, the Gettysburg college football team was dealt a 32-12 defeat by its bitterest rival, Dickinson, at Carlisle, Saturday afternoon before a home-coming crowd of 3,000 fans.

Dickinson's victory, its first in eleven years over the Bullets, was one of the most decisive Red Devil wins ever scored over the locals. From start to finish Gettysburg never had a chance, as they were outplayed, outfought and outsmarted. With the exception of the fourth period, when the Bullets rallied for a pair of touchdowns, play was confined almost entirely to Orange and Blue soil.

A devastating four-touchdown assault in the third period completely demoralized the locals, who from the start of the tilt seemed to lack their usual amount of pep and fight.

70-Yard Drive To Score Early in the first minutes of the game Dickinson forced the Bullets back deep into their own territory, mostly through penalties and a fumble and secured a first down on the 10-yard stripe. Two plays failed, and on the next a fake placement resulted in a pass to Kiehl over the goal line, which was dropped. On the next try a field goal was attempted, but it was short.

Coach Kahler's famed triple-wing back attack swung into action late in the second period and produced the initial Dickinson touchdown. Securing the ball on their own 30-yard stripe the Red Devils tore through the Bullet line as they marched 70 yards for a score, Larson and Kiehl bearing the brunt of the attack. After reaching the 16-yard line Kiehl made seven yards on a fake reverse and Adams got two yards at left end. Kiehl hit the line for another yard, but on the next play Larson dropped back to heave a pass to Binder on the goal line for a score. Binder place-kicked the extra point.

Disastrous Period The fury of the Dickinson attack reached its height in the third period. After pushing the locals deep into their own territory Sassa-man dropped back of the goal line for a punt, but a host of Red Devils broke through with Fredericks blocking the punt and falling upon it back of the goal line for a touchdown. Again Binder converted a placement kick.

Gettysburg received the kick-off and kicked on the first play, but Dickinson returned the ball to the 45-yard stripe and scored in less than two minutes. Shore, on two tries, made a first down on the 20-yard line. On the next play Larson circled left end and raced to the 5-yard line, where he flipped a lateral to Shore, who scored standing up. Larson's try for the point failed. A few minutes later Kiehl intercepted Cicco's pass on the 40-yard

Toughest Beef Goes to Troops

Pretria, So. Africa (AP)—Cattle prices have boomed as a result of the war in Ethiopia, and South African farmers are shouting "Viva Italia" and "Bail Belaise."

The thousands of head offered for sale at high prices include thin, underfed animals of doubtful value.

Even natives, ordinarily most reluctant to sell cattle, sense the situation and are sorting out the "oldest residents" of their herds for the Italian troops.

Farmers admit an increasing respect for the Italian army. "Any army which can fight on North transvaal scrub cattle must be tough," is a current wise-crack.

Hoosier Band Gets A Return "Date"

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Indiana University has accepted an invitation to have it 110-piece marching band participate in the opening of the $12,000,000 Texas centennial exposition at Dallas next June.

The Indiana band was selected from among the college bands of the country because of its impressive showing at Dallas a few years ago when the Crimson football team met Southern Methodist at the opening of the Dallas municipal stadium.

Thank You!

I take this means to express my sincere thanks for the vote and support in electing me Prothonotary of Adams County. I assure you that I will try to merit your confidence in me in performing the duties of this office to the best of my ability.
